The instructions of the storekeeper shall have to be observed immediately and absolutely. Any authorization of access to the warehouse can be withdrawn by the storekeeper at any time.
- 1.7. All persons using or visiting the facilities and installations of the warehouse as well as drivers and passengers of vehicles which deliver or pick up goods shall submit themselves to these Bonded Warehouse Regulations. The latter shall be posted at the FLG customer counter. Besides, the provisions of the Civil Aerodrome Conditions of use shall be applicable to their full extent for all these persons.

§ 2. Store-Rooms

- 2.1. Under the provision of Art.1 the person depositing goods shall be allowed to inspect the store-rooms or have them inspected. Reclamations against the storage of the goods or against the selection of the store-room shall have to be made immediately. If the person depositing the goods does not avail himself of the right of inspection, he shall waive any objections to the kind of accommodation as far as the selection of the store-room and the accommodation of the goods have been made while respecting the care of an ordinary storekeeper.
- 2.2. The storekeeper shall be obliged to secure or guard store-rooms only if these store-rooms are his own and if the securing and guarding are advisable and customary in the place considering all circumstances.

§ 3. Liability

- 3.1. The storekeeper shall be obliged to carry out this duties with the usual care of an ordinary business man. He shall be liable in all his activities on principle only in case of negligence under the following provisions:

The storekeeper shall not be liable if the loss and damage has been caused by circumstances which it was impossible to avoid with the care of an ordinary business man.
It shall however not be permitted to object that the storekeeper ought to have known the value of the goods by some other way. If the person authorized to dispose of the goods stored proves however that the damage was caused by circumstances other than omitting to indicate the value or would have been caused even if the value had been indicated, this exclusion of liability shall not be applicable.
- 3.3. For the rest the storekeeper shall be liable only up to the value of the goods stored even if it can be proved that he acted with intent or gross negligence. He shall not be liable, neither directly or indirectly, for reduction in value, lost profit or delays and expenses caused by the delay. The calculation of the damage to part of a good which for itself has a value of its own, or in case of damage to a good which forms part of several goods belonging together, a possible reduction in value of the remainder of the goods or the remaining parts of the good or goods shall not be taken into consideration. In all cases in which the amount of damage reaches the full common value of the good, the storekeeper shall be obliged to pay only hand on hand in exchange for the transfer of ownership of the good and cession of claims which the person depositing the goods or the receiver of payment has with respect to the good against third parties.

- 3.4. The storekeeper shall be free from any responsibility if he delivers the good to the person authorized to dispose of the goods stored in the same external condition in which he has received it.
- 3.5. A loss noticed or a damage which can be recognized externally shall have to be reported immediately to the storekeeper and ascertained by means of a damage report. This damage report shall serve exclusively for giving an account of the facts and shall not constitute any admission of fault by the storekeeper. The unconditional acceptance of the good by the person authorized to dispose of the goods stored or his representative shall be proof - until the contrary is proved - for the fact that the good has been delivered in perfect condition.
- 3.6. If a damage is reported at a time where the damage can not be examined by the storekeeper, or later than 4 days the goods are handed over, out of which reasons ever, the storekeeper shall be free from any liability. The damage shall have to be reported in writing.
- 3.7. In case that goods, with the knowledge of the person depositing same, are stored in the open, or because of their nature and/or size can only be stored in the open, the storekeeper shall be free from liability for damages resulting from such a storage and which cannot be attributed to weather conditions. If under the circumstances a damage could have resulted from the storage in the open it shall be assumed that it has resulted from this risk.
- 3.8. If the person authorized to dispose of the goods stored in any way manipulates the good stored he shall have to hand over the good to the storekeeper in a closed and orderly state thereafter unless the good has to be transported away after customs inspection and clearance immediately after being manipulated.
- 3.9. Liability shall be excluded
- 3.9.1. for damages to non-packed goods as well as goods not orderly or deficiently packed if a packing is customary and/or necessary considering the nature of the good, unless a written agreement on the liability has been concluded previously;
- 3.9.2. for damages which are the direct or indirect result of vis major (fire, explosion, sabotage, etc.);
- 3.9.3. for damages which are the direct or indirect result of weather conditions of any kind;

- 3.9.6. for damages caused by inherent deterioration (leaking, breakage, rust, drying up, mould, rottenness or similar) or through the natural or particular state of the good stored or its packing or wrapping;
- 3.9.7. for damages caused by theft under Art. 127 ff, by robbery under Art. 142 ff, or by black-mailing under Art. 144 ff of the Austrian Penal Code.

- 3.10. If, under the circumstances, a damage could have resulted from one of these above mentioned risks it shall be assumed that it has resulted from this risk. The storekeeper shall only be able to refer to these exclusions of liability if it cannot be proved that he acted with intent or gross negligence.

- 3.11. A possible liability of the storekeeper on account of other imperative legal rules shall not be affected by the above provisions.

§ 4. Prescription

- 4.1. The claims against the storekeeper on account of loss, decrease in value, damage or delayed delivery of the goods stored shall become invalid by prescription within one year (Art. 423 in connection with Art. 414 of the Austrian Commercial Code).
- 4.2. In case of damage or decrease in value, prescription shall begin with lapse of the day on which the goods were delivered; in case of complete loss with lapse of the day on which the storekeeper notified the person depositing the goods and/or the person authorized to dispose of the goods stored of the loss and/or on which the loss is reported to the storekeeper by the person depositing the good and/or the person authorized to dispose of the goods stored; in case of delayed delivery with lapse of the day on which delivery ought to have been effected.

the storekeeper. It shall be possible to restrict acceptance to certain kinds of goods and/or shipments. In particular it can be refused to store goods which are not packed according to the respective regulations (IATA, UN-ICAO, national regulations) or which are damaged or which require certain warehouse installations which are not provided by the storekeeper.

Should damages become apparent only during storage, the person authorized to dispose of the goods stored shall have to take care that the respective measures are taken.

Furthermore, should, in the course of the treatment of goods in the bonded warehouse, it be found out that a good for which the Regulations for Dangerous Goods (ICAO, IATA) are applied, has not been duly declared as dangerous good on the occasion of its being deposited in the bonded warehouse, than the good shall be duly relocated in the bonded warehouse or transferred to a special off-airport warehouse under the respective regulations at the cost and risk of the person authorized to dispose of the goods.
